BALMACEDA ESCAPES

The Rebels Capture Much of His Wealth.

Chilean Hostillty to Minister Egan Rumors of "Deals."

Sedan Day in Europe Causes the Per ennial War-cloud to Arise.

Rioting again Breaks Out in China Missions and Other Property of Foreign Residents Burned by a Mob.

By Telegraph to The Times. NEW YORK, Sept. 3 .- By the Asso ciated Press. | The Herald's Valparaiso special says: "Balmaceda will not have as much money when he reaches London as he thought he would by $1,000,000. Deputy Verduga was captured today at Yalca while on his way out of the country, with the purpose, it is supposed, of joining Balmaceda. When turned over to the authorities at Santiago he had $300,000 in Chilean bank notes and $800,000 in drafts on London. This was confiscated by the Junta. There is little doubt but that Balmaceda is making his way over the Andes through the south pass. It would be impossible to stop him now.

"Minister Egan's friends are doing their utmost to dispel the impression that he has acted offensively as a partisan of the late government. One of them, named Spencer, is authority for the statement that it was largely due to Egan's efforts that the President decided to turn over the government to Bacquedano and give up the struggle. This was done, says Spencer, in the face of the opposition of Balmaceda's ministers, who insisted that the victory of the revolutionists at Placilla was not decisive and were desirous of keeping up the fight, despite the fall of Vallparaiso. Be this as it may, the bitter feeling against Egan in particutheir utmost to dispel the impression bitter feeling against Egan in particular and Americans in general shows no sign of abatement.

The Congressional leaders profess to be puzzled at the continued refusal of the State Department at Washington to recognize their envoys at the capital, and are generally inclined to attribute the tardiness to ulterior motives, though just what these may be they do not say. There are vague rumors of fat contracts and nitrate-beds in the sir, but nothing definite is specified.

"No further news has been received from the mobstricken town of Cor-onel. It is understood the provisional government has taken steps which will insure a restoration of order very soon. Probable some faither nsure a restoration of order very scon. Probably some fighting may occur before the mob is quelled and the leaders will most certainly be shot when captured. Members of the Junta are expected to arrive tonight or tomorrow on a steamer, and great preparations have been made for their reception.

Many bodies of the dead from the pattle-field were buried today and the balance will probably be cremated to-morrow. The wounded are all receiv-

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—At last the Department of State has heard directly from Minister Egan. The news came in a cablegram, briefly announcing recent events. The delay was cause by the wires having been cut.

SEDAN DAY.

The Anniversary Causes a Revival of War Talk.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Sedan day was celebrated according to custom with school fetés, services in the churches, parades of veterans and banquets to soldiers of the various garrisons. The large imperial crown wrought of copper surmounting the dome of the new Reichstag building was exposed to view for the first time.

The papers concur, in regarding the European situation as grave. The Post says, recalling Von Moltke's saying that Germany must remain fifty years under arms in order to keep what she won at Sedan.

We have no desire to trouble peace, but if others provoke war Germany will fight-as courageously as she did twenty years ago, confident in God's aid.

Kreuz Zeitung says:

If war is inevitable it will be a struggle of which the world has never seen the like. Our splendid army, generals of proved capacity and courage and the energy of the Emperor give us confidence in the result, which will involve the very existence of Germany. If we are beaten it will be finis Germanies.

Catholics, Socialists and Germans alike wil WAR TALK AT PARIS.

WAR TALK AT PARIS.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—The papers of this city generally make no reference to Sedan. Ollivier, in a published interview, complains bitterly of the renewal of the historic charges that his government provoked and began the war of 1870 with a light heart. He declares that William and Bismarck purposely outraged France and imposed the war. He adds: "Arising from her defeat, France is greater than ever."

An article by Zola in Figaro proclaiming the necessity of wiping out Sedan is the sensation of the day. Zola says:

Zola says: Zola says:

France is ready, and beneeforth has nothing to fear. Time has worked for us against the conquerors. Germany is at her aporee of power. Already one almost hears the voice of the tempest that will sweep away another dynasty and cause to toter a nation that has put forth its utmost efforts. Its best days are over. France, surviving Sedan and drawing strength from the defeat is invinetble.

UNEASINESS AT VIENNA.

VIENNA, SEPL 2.—The Deutsch Zeitung says:

tung says: sunce the wisit of the French fleet to Cronstadt, the international situation has been greatly modified. The German Emperor no longer seeks to visit the Czar. Uneasiness pervades Europe. The meeting of Emperor William and Emperor-Francis Joseph thus acquires greater import than it would otherwise have had.

By Telegraph to The Times.

THE DALLES (Or.,) Sept. 2.-[By the Associated Press.] Fire broke out at 1 o'clock this afternoon in Skibb's restaurant. The wind was blowing a gale and the flames spread rapidly. The firemen were fifteen minutes arriving at the seene, giving the fire tre-mendous headway. The flames com-municated to Mrs. Wingate's row of buildings, then to Wingate & Co.'s general merchandise store. Crossing the street the fire took in F. G. Peter's lumber yard and swept on through the block south. The fire burned on the east until sixteen blocks were consumed. The loss is estimated at from $750,000 to $1,000,000. The fire is now

The Question of Raising Funds Becoming Very Urgent. Commissioner McDonald Denies a

Alleged Interview in Which He was Made to Assail By Telegraph to The Times. CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] The National Columdian Commission met at noon today. The first subject which came up was the reading of a communication from he general secretary of the American Sabbath Union asking for a hearing for that body on the subject of closing the exposition on Sunday. The memorial of the Sabbath Union sets forth: That a proper observance of Sunday at the fair will "honor the law of God by whom the Sabbath was made for man," be in har-mony with the letter and spirit of the law of all States and Territories, respect the mony with the letter and spirit of the laws of all States and Territories, respect the conscientious convictions of all Christians who form a large part of the sterling character of the world and should have their feelings considered; will be in line with the Sab ath observance at the Centennial Exposition; will follow the example set by the English-speaking nations at the Paris. exposition; that to open it on Sunday would unjustly compel employés of the fair and transportation companies to labor on the Lord's day and would lead to excesses by vicious classes; that the Satur-labor on the Lord's day and would lead to excesses by vicious classes; that the Saturday half-holidays and generosity of employers may be depended upon to give all employes opportunities to visit the Fair; that this dovernment cannot afford to set such an example to the nations of the world; that all foreigners should be given an opportunity to see the "American Sunday" as it is usually observed, and finally that the event which the fair celebrates was the result of the supreme inspiration of a Christian, man who took possession of the new world in the name of the Son of Man, who is also Lord of the Sabbath.

After debate on the motion of Commissioner De Young, and the amendment by Massey of Delaware, it was voted to appoint a committee of three

The responses of foreign governments had been most oreign governments had been most satisfactory and presage the greatest exposition of its kind ever attempted. Twenty legislatures have made appropriations and thirty States and Territories have made application for space. Congress by a meager appropriation has crippled the work, but it is to be broad that the next session will do noped that the next session will do better. He asked the commission to give careful consideration to cutting down expenses to bring them within the appropriation.

The report of Director-General Davis covered the work done under his direction, the facts of which have been covered from time to time.

The report from the buildings and grounds committee estimated the expenses of the expesition up to the penses of tre exposition up to the opening day at $17,825,453. In this connection a letter was received from President Baker of the local directory, asking the commission to define its position on the subject of on appeal to Congress for a $5,000,000 loan. The matter was made the special order for tomorrow. The remainder of the ses-sion was spent in discussing a resolu-tion by Commissioner Harris providing for a committee to ask Congress to adjust the tariff on exhibits to further relieve foreign exhibitors from onerous imports. The resolution was referred to a committee. THE LADY MANAGERS. The national board of lady ma place shortly after midnight last night. Dynamite and Winchesters were used as a means to intimidate the express messenger, and the robbers gaining an entrance into the express car, all money and valuables in the safe in the car were secured by them. as well as several sacks of mail and registered packages. The amount of money obtained cannot be learned, but first reports were that it would reach into the tens of thousands. The train was just pulling out from the station when six masked men, who had selected their positions, simulta-neously mounted the engine, mail and express cars.

OVER FORTY SHOTS were fired, the bullets literally perforating the baggage and express cars without injury to any one. Then a without injury to any one. Then a dynamite cartridge was exploded against the small window in the express car. The effect of this was to tear the window out and otherwise damage the car. The express messenger was stunned, but he recovered a few minutes later only to be overpowered by the robbers and made to give up the safe key. up the safe key.

The train was delayed several hours.

and are now in Mexico, beyond reach of the authorities. The passengers were unmolested, as the men seemed to want only the contents of the express car and mail bags. They got all the money in the express car, which, it is now said, was a small sum, as there is never a large amount carried west. They also took one registered package, two empty mail bags and mail which was made up for the Dryden postoffice. After they had gotten what they could from the mail and express car they returned the money which they had taken from the mail clerk and express messenger and left the train, afternoon.

The trial of the cases of G. W. Tungate and W. M. Snoddy against the Azusa Water and Development Company was resumed before Judge Clark yesterday, and as the plaintiffs have rested, and part of the defendant's testimony has been heard, it is probable that the matter will be concluded this morning.

In Department Three yesterday the case of Schoder-Johnson Company vs. W. S. Maxwell et al., constituting the Southern California Paving and Construction Company, a sult to recover $47.57 for hardware sold and delivered to defendant, came up for hearing before Judge Wade, who ordered judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

James Weich, a native of Ireland, 30 years of age, appeared before Judge Van Dyke yesterday for examination as to his sanity, and in accordance with the recommendation of Drs. Cochrane and Nadeau, the examining physicians, the unfortunate man was ordered committed to the county poor farm. Welch imagines that some one is following him continuously and whispering in his ear.

The trial of the appeal case of R. W. Grannis vs. M. H. Lordon was concluded before Judge Shaw and a jury in Department Five yesterday afternoon, but no result was reached until late last night, when a sealed verdlet was returned by the jury, which will be opened this morning.

In Department Five yesterday the case of L. W. Hellman vs. C. A. Doyle et al., a suit to recover $100 rent alleged to be due for the premises known as the Dime Musee, on North Main street, for the restitution of the premises and for damages in the sum of $10 per day, from August 16 last, came up for hearing before Judge Shaw. The defendants having allowed the matter to go by default, judgment was ordered for plaintiff as prayed for.

In Department Six yesterday M. E. C. Munday, Esq., was appointed by Judge McKinley as counsel for C. M. Pearley, the youth charged with having forged a telegram recently, J. M. Damron having withdrawn from the case.

Progress of Santa Monica's Tennis Tournament.

GAMES GROWING IN INTEREST

Hop Tonight at the Miss Shoemaker, of Pasadena, and Miss Tufts, of Los Angeles, have won the ladies' doubles championship, and Messrs. Cawston, of San Monica, and Coulter, of Los Angeles, are still fighting for the championship of Southern California.

This is as far as the events have progressed in the Southern California Association's tournament now in progress at Santa Monica.

was played in the morning. This was between Corson and Lester of Santa Monica and Cosby and Germain, one of the Los Angeles ciub's crack teams. The first set was easily won by Cosby and Germain, 6-1. They played woil up to the net, and it seemed aimost impossible for their opponents to drive the ball by them or lob it over their heads. In the second set the Santa Monica mea played a harder game, and it looked for a time as if they would win. When the Los Angeles team had four games Corson and Lester had but two, the latter took a brace and tied the score at five games. The final and decisive game was, however, won by Cosby and Germain, and thus the match was theirs.

by Cosby and Germain, and thus the match was theirs.

A RATTLING GOOD MATCH.

The best contest of the morning was in the mixed doubles between the Los Angeles team, composed of Mr. Bumiller and Miss Tutts, and Mr. Barry and Miss Shoemaker, representing the Pasadena club. Hitnerto Miss Tutts has played with Mr. Cochran, but in his absence Mr. Bunniller was called upon to to take his place, and it goes without saying that he did it nooly. But teams had many warm admirers among the spectators, and the enthusiasm was miense, every good stroke eliciting loud, prolonged applause. In the first set Barry played a smasning net game and his partner gave him fine support. As a result the set went their way, 6-3. In the next los Angeles returned the compliment, winning it by a score, of 6-4. Miss Tutts never played to better advantage. She excelled in taking Mr. Barry's drives on the rebound and returning them safely over his head. The decisive set resulted in another victory for Los Angeles. It was the easiest won set of the three, the Pasadena team weakening very holiceably in their play. The score was 6-3. This brought the morning's play to a close.

THOSE TAHITI TREES.

Quarantine Officer/ Craw's Official Report.

HOW THE TREES WERE TREATED

Mr. Crow Declares That Seven Distinct Variaties of Insect Pests Were Discovered-History of the Case.

The official report of Quarantine Officer Alexander Craw, on the infested Tahiti orange trees at San Pedro, imported by the Messrs. Meserve, has been received through Secretary Lelong, of the State Board of Horticulture. There are 325,000 of these trees, and from the fact that every horticul-turist in the State is interested in the matter the report is given in full as follows:

their escape when the scale was removed. After such a showing the responsibility of liberating such trees, even after a very shorough and careful examination, was greater than we cared to assume. So I stated the facts to the Attorney-General and asked his advice about commencing condemnation proceedings to have the trees declared a nulsance and destroyed. On the night of July 19 a triple amount of chemicals was used. On the 21st, the date set for the official examination, in company with Commissioners Kercheval and Burr, we made another inspection and still found live scales and eggs. Mr. Kercheval also found an undetermined borer upon the stem (under ground) of one of the trees. This is a new pest to California, and at a subsequent examination I secured more specimens, and will carefully breed them to the winged state in order to ascertain the family to which they belong. This borer has been claimed by the importer to be a native species, and that the trees became infested after their arrival. This undoubtedly, is not correct, otherwise they would have been found attacking the orange trees in the county. The largest specimens found, measured about a half an inch in length, by a little over an eighth of an inch in diameter. It is a cylindrical grub, and resembles the peach-root borer, but differs in having the last segment of the body the same as the others—translucent. It has a rown head and black mandbles, with a few short hairs scattered over the body and head.

On July 20 I received a letter from First Deputy Attorney-General W. H. Laveon brown head and black mandibles, with a few short hairs scattered over the body and head.

On July 20 I received a letter from First Deputy Attorney-General W. H. Layson, wherein he says, "Go ahead and bring an action to declare the infested trees a nulsance under the act of 1839. The sconer a test case is made the better. I believe the State Board of Horticulture can destroy trees, unplanted, if necessary to kill infesting scales."

This matter was fully discussed by County Commissioners Kercheval, Burr and me on July 22, and after reviewing every point we were satisfied that the importers had been given every opportunity and had put forth their best energies to destroy every scale, and had failed, after fumigating the trees four times, three times with a double dose and once with a triple amount of chemicals producing the most deadly gases. I then seen to that day the following telegram to Attorney-General Hart, Sacramento:

"Instruct District Attorney, Los Angeles, to sue in name of people to condemn Tahiti trees at San Fedro as nuisance."

"The same afternoon the subjoined answer was received, dated San Francisco:
"Alexander Craw, Los Angeles: District Attorney of Los Angeles County, James McLachian, is hereby authorized and directed to bring suit in name of people to condemn as nuisance."

Before action was taken the importers stated that they had been supplied with a lower grade of cyanide of potassium, through the misunderstanding of the druggist; but the fact remains that they used a quantity more than sufficient to compensate for the deficiency in strength; or, in other words, they used two and three parts of a 30 per cent. evande of potassium instead of one part of a 50 per cent grade, and as an indication that this gas was effective upon other species. I bave only to state that but once did we find live specimens or eggs of the purple scale. However, when this matter was brought to our attention we decided to postpone action until the importers had another opportunity to gas with 60 per cent. of cyanide.

After they had olled and repaired their canvas a double amount of this strong cyanide was used, with the result that the young shoets were injured. On the expiration of the fourteen days granted was made another examination, and after looking through three hair-boxes of trees and finding three borers is each, we then examined the large "mining scales," and in the presence of their foreman found live and bealthy specimens, which I placed under the microscope, and they were examined by him, also by Mr. H. Meserve and others, and acknowledged to be alive. The following day we examined other boxes, and finding more living "mining scales," Mr. Kercheval telegraphed the District Attorney to commence proceedings, and left on the forenoon train to attend to the matter. Mr. Mitchell was then in Los Angeles and learned of the estegram, and as a member of the county board, swore to the complaint. Owing to a mistake in the copy served upon the defendants for perjury, but was subsequently released.

The District Attorney detailed his first deputy, Judge York, to take charge of the case, and he conducted it for the people in a manner satisfactory to the horticulturists of the State and with fairness to the defendants.

On August 21, in company with Commissioner Kercheval, we made an another in-Indicalura. There are 32,000 of these trees, and from the fact that every porticularis in the State is historest of the maiter the epoch is given in full as follows:

Early the spring I learned that eclosure had been chartered to bring a state of the s memory and ambition, aversion to society, impurity of the blood, blotches, loss of power, kidney and bladder troubles, speedily and permanently cured when every other remedy has failed, by

ENTERED AT LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE AS SECOND-CLASS MATTE "THE LAND AND ITS FRUITS." The "Midsummer Harvest Number" of THE TIMES-a 20-page sheet-will be issued on the 5th of September. It will aim to show the industrial condition of Southern California in 1891, by describing the agricultural and borticultural results achieved in seven southern counties. The information which this issue is to contain has been gathered by our own special representatives from the fields and orchards of the Sunny South, and will be found correct, comprehensive and trustworthy. The descriptions are graphic and have about them a flavor of the soil and its products which will make them telling. The work is now well in band. Printing will be begun on next Tuesday, September 1, and a the forthcoming number will be the best ever emitted from THE TIMES press, and when disseminated will do the country more good than any preceding edition.

A CITY MARKET.

Our plan for a public market place appears to be making little or no progress. A committee was appointed by the Council to investigate and report upon the upper end of Los Angeles street for the purpose named, but nothing further has come of it, so far that locality for the simple reason that there is none better. There is con-siderable space there, however, although it is in awkward shape. The sheds and booths and stalls will have to be strung along in the middle of the street, and occupy the few open lots in neighborhood. Altogether a tolerably convenient market place can be improvised and provided on the upper end of that street, and around and near the old Plaza. It is not as good as we went, but it will beat no market place all hollow; and it only rests with the city authorities to take matter in charge, precisely as other enlightened municipalities take such matters in hand. The city should first procure a survey and platting of all the locality named, finding out just what territory can be subjected to the use of a market place, and then call for plans for the structures needed, reference being had to the different lines of business to be carried on.

In the arrangement there could be one place for vegetables, another for milk and dairy products, another for poultry and eggs, another for fish. another for fresh meats, another for cured and preserved meats, anothe for groceries, another for fruits, and so on to the end of the chapter. With such a systematic arrangement both the country people and the citizens of Los Angeles would find themselves greatly benefited, and the sanitary condition of the city would at the same time be largely improved. The people instead of being supplied, as they have been in the long past, with stale and inferior products for the table would obtain them fresh from the producer. Besides all this the truckman, the dairyman, the rancher and farmer would obtain fair prices for their products, and the city consumer would be charged much less than he now pays for the poor products.

A city market, under proper regulations, is the greatest blessing the people of a city can enjoy; but it must be a public city market, and not a mere private speculative concern. A market place once established, the people will wonder how they did withut one so long.

It isn't likely that everybody will be pleased with the locality, but it is accessible, and taking the convenience of East Los Angeles and Boyle Heights into consideration as well as that of the rest of the city, it is about as good a point for a market place as can be named, provided we are to have but one. As the city grows, other market places will be demanded and established. This will follow as people become familiar with the advantages of such institutions; but for the present let us have one without fail.

PARKS AND PATRIOTISM.

James Lick, Charles Crocker, William Sharon and other wealthy men of San Francisco made large donations of money to improve, adorn and beautify the Golden Gate Park, and the result is, so far as the work is completed, the most delightful park in the world, If Los Angeles had a place for a city park perhaps some of her rich men might follow the example set them by their brethren of the Bay City, and make it a place of attraction and enjoyment. The Golden Gate Park is an institution in which every citizen of San Francisco feels a commendable pride; it is the breathing place of that city, and no doubt contributes largely to the healthfulness as well as pleasure of that great metropolis. Women and children by the thousand find amusement there each day, and on Sundays the throng at the park is enormous.

The advantages of parks in a sanitary point of view should not be overlooked. Moping at home, or tramping through crowded, hemmed-in streets, is not most conducive to health. Peo ple must have occasionally the free, open, God-given air to secure good health, and this is well understood in all enlightened countries, hence extensive public parks in modern cities.

The munificent contributions to the Golden Gate Park have been expended according to the directions of the donors. The magnificent conservatory there is the gift of Charles Crocker, there is the gift of Charles Crocker, the conservatory there is the gift of Charles Crocker, the conservatory that it's from a man?

and it far surpasses everything of the kind on the Pacific Coast. The bene faction of James Lick is seen in the great monument erected to the mem-Banner." A grand building and most elaborate preparations for the amuse ment of children commemorate the munificence of William Sharon. Other large and small donations are evidenced by fitting memorials wherever one goes in that beautiful ground. San Franciscans are justly proud of their park, and, doubtless, the more so from their having redeemed the land from a waste of sand.

CAPS OR NO CAPS.

Americans who have got so far along toward the customs of real aristocracy as to have a coschman in livery and a French bonne wearing a cap and regulation apron, will learn with regret that there is a small reaction against badges of servitude, which has already gained something of a footbold in England. A certain serving maid refused to wear a cap. Her e ployer discharged her and declined to pay her her contract by refusing to obey lawful orders. The girl sued for her money and got it, the magistrate holding that, in the absence of any express stipulation with regard to cap-wearing, the order was not a lawful one. Now the Enlarge edition will be issued. We think glish press is earnestly discussing the Liberal papers are of course arrayed on opposite sides.

It would be just the luck of a lot of Americans, as soon as they find them-selves able to set up a servant with a cap, to have caps go out of fashion. How provoking!

ACCORDING to Census Bulletin No. 103, on June 1, 1890, there were in the United States 14,976,017 horses, 2,246,-936 mules and 41,109 asses. This does not include animals kept on holdings of less than three acres in cities and as known to the public. The market people will have to be satisfied with percentage of increase from 1880 to 1890 was 44.59 per cent. It is reasonable to infer that there are in the country some horses and mules and a good many asses who escaped enumeration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The family quarrel within the Southern company for its control at last seems to have reached the point where a battle must be fought to determine the supremacy. The death of Mrs Hopkins was the precipitating incident, as it developed the fact that she had tried to disinherit her son in favor ropriety of requiring maid servants to who knew Mrs. Hopkins, for the reason that they had regarded her mental servant.

HER BELIEF IN SPIRITUALISM had been known to her family for more than a year previous to her marriage, and it was also known that she kept her private medium in her house in order to have constantly at hand a kind of a private telegraph operator through whom she could communicate with the invisible world. As is the case with all rich people she had only to indicate the possession of a fad of any kind, and those about her were ready to pander to it, especially if they were dependents. The peculiarities of Mr. Hepkins and his cousin-wife were so well known that no one was ever intimate with them or nearer to them than dependents. Huntington always loved a dollar, but he did not hesitate to spend one when he thought it would bring back two in its place. Not so with Mark Hopkins. With him money was an end, not a means. That he stinted his wife during his early lifetime, there can be no doubt, and only after his mental machinery got out of gear, did he begin spending his hoardings in the erection of the shoddy pile of kindling wood on Knob Hill. It is not a wonder therefore, that after

The law here invoked is presumably the old fuglitive slave law, which was repealed many years ago. From the able and lucid arguments of the law roughly star his mental machinery got out of gear, did he begin spending his hoardings in the erection of the shoddy pile of kindling wood on Knob Hill. his widow wanted to cut a splurge in the world, but she had lived so long in the shadow and dread of her miserly husband that she feared to make husband that she feared to make a move which might bring the ghost of the old penny grabber back at unpleas-ant hours to protest by rapping on the mahogany furniture. She did not live alone, for it was soon known that she had an undefinable dread of that something after death which might appear at unseasonable hours. Young Tim-othy Hopkins, her neice, and two sons Dr. Crook, who had been her had reached men's estate. younger of these soon "got onto" Mrs. Hopkins's earnest desire to know whether there was any connection between this life and the one to come, and he proceeded to qualify himself as an expert test medium. By the time he had opened communication with the "other side" in a way that was satisfactory to Mrs. Hopkins, she had entered fully upon her career as a cas-tle builder. Old Mark was regularly consulted, and his replies were always

THE ADVENT OF SEARLES was about the time that the spiritual line had been fully opened, and it did not take him long to learn the lay of the land. He joined the mystic circle of evenings, proclaimed himself not only a believer, but an apostle of the spiritualistic creed, and was a welcome party at all of the seances. The young medium, in relating these performances to THE TIMES representative, said: "THE GIFT OF A HOUSE TO TIM

HOPKINS came about in a peculiar way. Hopkins, Searles and myself were seated at the seance table one night, when suddenly she asked the spirit of my father if she should deed the Menle Park residence to her son Timothy at once, or wait until it should go into his ownership with the remainder of the estate. Searles heard once, or wait until it should go into his ownership with the remainder of the estate. Searles heard the question, and quick as a flash I saw that he wanted a negative answer. Something told me then that Searles had his eye on the widow's estate, and did not want Tim Hopkins to grow any closer to his mother. I also knew then sthat Searles won, he would have no use for me. The answers always came by the table tipping, and I determined that it should be in favor of Tim. It then became a question of muscle between Searles and myself, but I was too much for him, and though he did his best to hold the table down, I tipped in spite of him. No sooner had the answer been given than he proposed the seance close for the evening. From this time on, while I remained with Mrs. Hopkins, I watched the moves of Searles in acquiring mental ascendency over her, and when he had carried his point, he found an excuse for sending me away, but not until he had made her believe that he coald provide a much more efficient medium than I was."

"Did Mr. Huntington know of this weakness of Mrs. Searles?"

"Oh yes, he knew all about it, and at one time I thought he was a believer in spiritualism. She had great confidence in him in all matters—so much, indeed, that Mr. Searles could not induce her to do anything over his objection."

"mere looker on here in Vienna," s few days ago I wandered up to the Acropolis of Los Angeles, and loitered the supremacy. The death of Mrs. Hopkins was the precipitating incident, as it developed the fact that she had tried to disinherit her son in favor of a man with whom she had lived several years in the legal relation of wife. The unnatural marriage and its attendant circumstances created much comment at the time of its occurrence, but she was a wealthy woman and the talk was all under the breath as is usual where a person possessed of millions does something which reflects upon the mental condition which might have led to the act.

THE SEARLES-HOPKINS MARRIAGE was not a matter of surprise to those who knew Mrs. Hopkins, for the reason that they had regarded her mental condition for quite a while before it as unsound, and no one knew what direction it might take. Just what Timothy Hopkins thought no one ever knew, as it was too delicate a matter to carry before the public. That he knew, has active direction in which her hallucination pointed there can be no doubt, but it is not probable that he ever thought it would terminate in marriage with one of her employés—a servant.

DANIEL SEXTON.

San Francisco's Decadence.
[Oakland Tribune,] Mayor Sanderson on behalf of San Francisco, made a quite remarkable statement concerning that city, before the State Board of Equalization yes-terday. Among other things he said: terday. Among other things he said:

Many merchants have, in the last four or five years, retired from business and invested their money in property, because there were no avenues of trade in which they could employ their capital to advantage. Many others have curtailed their San Francisco business, branching out and investing their withdrawn capital in business in other places. You cannot safely say that the actual cash value of property is any certain figure by reason of prices that are obtained in particular localities. I am now speaking in a general way. There has been no particular advance in property, except in certain sections where special causes prevail—for speculative reasons, or from the opening up of new lines of railroad, and the like.

road, and the like.

We do not know whether this is to be accepted as a true picture of the condition of business in San Francisco or not. It may have been exaggerated oard from the proposition to increas the assessment of the city, but substantially the same things have been said for some time past in a less responsible way. If it is true that the business of San Francisco is declining, in spite of San Francisco is declining, in spite of her commanding commercial position, it is a serious reflection on the enterprise and ability of her leading merchants. That the statement is true in large part, we believe, and the condition of things set forth by Mr. Sanderson is mostly due to the silurianism which has been the curse of San Francisco for years. The abominable condition of the streets of the city is another symptom of the same the city is another symptom of the sam disease of dry rot. San Francisco is the worst paved city of any size in the State, and we are not surprised to be told that her merchants and her bus-ness are suffering from the same causes.

All this is cause for regret in Oak-land as well as San Francisco, for the fortunes of the two cities are largely bound up together, and although San Francisco may be useful in some re-spects as an object lesson or a bad example, we are sorry that it is so clos

A Prospector's Story About Death Valley.

TERRIFIC ELECTRICAL STORM

Downpour of Scalding Water-A Long Trip with an Insane Man -The Original Explor-ing Party.

W. S. Barton, a well-known miner and prospector, has just returned from Death Valley. Mr. Barton brings back with him a remarkable story. He states that of a sudden one of the members of his party was taken insane. This occurred at Charleston, about twenty miles over the line in Nevada. Mr. Barton started south, intending to land him in San Bernardino, which he finally did. But in the trip south he stopped at Ibex, on the edge of Death Valley. Here at midnight the thermometer stood at 1150.

Over the valley-and by this is meant Death Valley—at 7 p.m. there occurred a remarkable phenomenon. Two clouds-one from the east and one from the west-met. An electric storm followed the like of which has Secretary Howard, of the Park Commis sion, has just returned from a yachting cruise, during which he visited San Clem-ente Island. When asked about the alleged fand boom" on the island, Mr. Howard re "land boom" on the island, Mr. Howard replied that it was in a very bad way. There are about half a dozen men on the island, who are living in a tent and subststing on lish. Justice King of Burbank is the head of the colony, and Capt Enveidson of the sloop Mystic is second in command. Mr. Howard says most of the colonists are barefooted and in a very—bad way, and would doubtless be glad to get back to the main land. The "boom," or attempt to boom. Clemente, he said, was a "fake" pure and simple, as there is absolutely nothing on the, island to induce a man to take up his ple, as there is absolutely nothing on island to induce a man to take up his dence there.

A. K. Morros was yesterday tried before Justice Austin and a jury on a-charge of battery, the complaining witness being Edna Morgan, aged 13 years. It was alleged that while the child, who is lame, was riding on a tricycle on Pearl street, near Tenth, Morros rut his arm around her neck and kissed her and disarranged her clothing. Almost the entire day was spent in securing a jury, the trial lasting comparatively a short time, Two older girls identified Morros, but a younger sister of the complaining witness failed to do so. Morros denied everything. A night session was held, when argument was heard, after which the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. There is one other charge against Morros. Southern Pacific operations for the month of July, as given out by Secretary Lansing, shows that the gross earnings of the Pacific system were $3,353,481.02 against $3,143,582.27 for the same period during the previous year. The operating expenses were $1,823,493.89, while in July, 1899, they were $1,661,993.72. The excess of earnings over operating expenses for the month were $1,530,011.13, while for the same period in 1890 the excess was $1,481,588.65. On the Atlantic system the gross earnings were $985,485.88, against $935,522.37 for the preceding year. The operating expenses for July, 1899, were $221,185.39, and for the same period in 1891 $688,707.93. The excess of earnings over operating expenses on this system was $246,727.93 in July of this year. With the earnings of both systems there will be an increase of about $50,000 over July, 1890, but after deducting fixed charges the net earnings will show a considerable decrease.

IF you were as rich as a Rothchilds you couldn't afford to waste your money, and you hit the nail squarely on the head every time you save it. Look out for the man who is always telling you that he will sell you two dollars' worth for one or five dollars's worth for three. He will bear watching. We make no such pre tenses. All we claim is that we give GOOD VALUE every day in the year; that our business is of sufficient volume to give us every advantage in purchasing, and of sufficient volume to enable us to sell at a lower percentage of profit than any house in our line. We also claim that we handle a superior class of goods; that we are particular to use our best endeavors to buy goods that will wear and not fade. Occasionally we are willing to make a sacrifice. For instance-
